

CCA EMC certification

CCA EMC is a common European certification mark for EMC. It demonstrates that the product specifically complies with European EMC standards for electromagnetic emission and immunity.

- For manufacturers who wish to show the market that they have had their product tested by a high quality EMC Laboratory.
- Can only be issued by a CCA certification body
- This mark is owned and operated by the CCA (Cenelec Certification Agreement)
- Includes annual factory inspections

Related information

Particular information with regards to CCA EMC can be obtained from the organization web site.

Source URL: <https://nemko.com/certification/product-certification/europe/cca-emc-certification>