

Project management

Sometimes there are unavoidable problems that put a hold on the project.

Project management by Nemko has proven useful to avoid unnecessary delays.

You will be informed about the progress of the project and any holdups as well as different possibilities to get the project moving again.

The objective is to get the project securely completed on time or with minimum delays.

Keep the project running

The project management services offered by Nemko keep the product moving throughout the development stages. When there is a stop, we will act accordingly to keep the project moving into the next steps.

Your own project manager

In addition, if the project involves several people and areas, a project manager will be assigned by Nemko to follow up the project during the various development stages.

Related information

Project management services can be combined with all of Nemko's product testing services: <http://www.nemko.com/product-testing> [1] as well as Nemko's International approval services <http://www.nemko.com/international-approval> [2]

---

Source URL: <https://nemko.com/product-testing/project-management>

Links

[1] <https://nemko.com/product-testing>

[2] <https://nemko.com/international-approval>