

Webinar; Market access Gulf region

Thursday 2 May 2019

The mandatory G-mark certification scheme covers a number of household products, such as air-conditioners, refrigerators, ovens, heating appliances, and plugs & socket outlets. This scheme covers United Arab Emirates (UAE), Saudi Arabia, Oman, Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain and Yemen.

Nemko is a Notified Body for the Gulf region and has many years of experience in issuing certificates for the Gulf region. But in addition to this this Gulf-wide certification scheme, there is a number of more local certifications like SABER/SALEEM in Saudi Arabia, shipment certifications, SASO IECEE certification, Energy Efficiency programs and others.

There have been significant changes even in the last few months and there are continuous changes and development. The most recent information for the G-mark certification will be made available from the G-mark meeting in Oman in April 2019. In addition, we inform you about the SABER/SALEEM scheme as the requirements for exporting products to Saudi Arabia is in a totally new process now.
